REAL CIDER TAKES TIME

200 Years

We are one of the oldest cider making families in the world with a proud history that goes back more than 200 years.

Today, under the watchful eye of David Sheppy, our sixth generation Master of Cider, we continue to champion the same traditional methods, using our superior crafting skills to produce award-winning and world class premium craft ciders.

We wouldn't put our name on anything less.

SUPPORTING BUGLIFE

Buglife is the only organisation in Europe devoted to the conservation of all invertebrates. There are more than 40,000 invertebrate species in the UK, and many of these are under threat as never before. Invertebrates are vitally important to a healthy planet – humans and other life forms could not survive without them.

Buglife's aim is to halt the extinction of invertebrate species and to achieve sustainable populations of invertebrates, and here at Sheppy's we are proud to support them with a portion of all sales from Sheppy's 200.

“ If our relationship with Buglife helps to protect the future of wild bees and pollinating insects, the future of cider-making and the high-quality products for which Sheppy's is known will be safer. ”

Louisa Sheppy, Director

DID YOU KNOW?

TRUE TO OUR ROOTS

We have more than 90 acres of orchard at Three Bridges Farm, some dating back over 100 years. All our apples are picked, fermented, blended and bottled or kegged right here on site.

WORKING WITH NATURE

During the pressing season, waste water from washing the apples is fed in to a Wetland Ecosystem Treatment (WET) system of ditches and willow-planted banks. Waste water is naturally purified by passing through the system, which is also a largely wild habitat for a multitude of animals, birds and plant species.

A WILDER CIDER

Wild yeast fermentation is an integral part of the Sheppy's cider crafting process. Yeasts natural to our farm and orchards are allowed to ferment our raw juice over a period of 1 to 2 months before the maturing process begins.

A HAPPY DIET

All our ciders are suitable for vegans and vegetarians and are gluten free.

“ We are always looking for new ways to bring our premium ciders to more consumers while staying true to our heritage and craftsmanship. Launching Sheppy's 200 in cans allows us to offer the same quality cider in a format that suits modern drinking occasions. We're excited to introduce this new format to the Sheppy's range, making our 200 Cider more accessible wherever consumers choose to enjoy it. ”

ORCHARD TREES

SHEPPY'S ORCHARDS AND SUSTAINABILITY

At Sheppy's, sustainability is at the heart of everything we do. Set within 90 acres of orchards at Three Bridges Farm, our approach balances traditional farming with modern environmental responsibility. Our organic orchard, home to 100-year-old trees, provides a rich habitat for wildlife, while our more intensively planted bush orchards are carefully managed with wildflower margins to support pollinators. We have invested in renewable energy and innovative solutions such as our Wetland Ecosystem Treatment (WET) system, which naturally filters cider-making effluents while creating thriving wetland habitats. Across the farm, ancient trees, hedgerows, and ponds support a diverse range of birds, insects, and animals throughout the seasons. By maintaining beehives, reducing waste, and lowering energy and water use, we are committed to protecting our environment. With over a century of heritage behind us, we continue to evolve—ensuring our land remains productive, resilient, and full of life for generations to come.
