REAL CIDER TAKES TIME

200 Years

We are one of the oldest cider making families in the world with a proud history that goes back more than 200 years.

Today, under the watchful eye of David Sheppy, our sixth generation Master of Cider, we continue to champion the same traditional methods, using our superior crafting skills to produce award winning and world class premium craft ciders.

We wouldn't put our name on anything less.

A portrait of David Sheppy, a man with short brown hair, smiling and sitting in a leather armchair with a plaid cushion. He is wearing a white button-down shirt and a green herringbone blazer. A glass of beer sits on a wooden table in the foreground. The background is dark with horizontal wooden slats.

WE'VE BEEN BUSY...

Investing in the future
and growth of our business

A black and white photograph of a distillery interior. Large wooden barrels with metal hoops are arranged in rows. The barrels are dark with light-colored metal bands. In the background, a wooden structure with the number '11' is visible. The lighting is dramatic, with strong highlights and deep shadows.

BUT SOME THINGS WILL NEVER CHANGE...

David Sheppy still champions
the same methods that were used by his forefathers generations ago.

SHEPPY'S SUPPORTING BUGLIFE

Buglife is the only organisation in Europe devoted to the conservation of all invertebrates. There are more than 40,000 invertebrate species in the UK, and many of these are under threat as never before. Invertebrates are vitally important to a healthy planet – humans and other life forms could not survive without them.

Buglife's aim is to halt the extinction of invertebrate species and to achieve sustainable populations of invertebrates, and here at Sheppy's we are proud to support them with a portion of all sales from Sheppy's 200.

"If our relationship with Buglife helps to protect the future of wild bees and pollinating insects, the future of cider-making and the high-quality products for which Sheppy's is known will be safer." Louisa Sheppy, Director.

DID YOU KNOW?

TRUE TO OUR ROOTS

We have more than 90 acres of orchard at Three Bridges Farm, some dating back over 100 years. All our apples are picked, fermented, blended and bottled, or kegged, right here on site.

WORKING WITH NATURE

During the pressing season, waste water from washing the apples is fed in to a Wetland Ecosystem Treatment (WET) system of ditches and willow-planted banks. Waste water is naturally purified by passing through the system, which is also a largely wild habitat for a multitude of animals, birds and plant species.

A WILDER CIDER

Wild yeast fermentation is an integral part of the Sheppy's cider crafting process. Yeasts natural to our farm and orchards are allowed to ferment our raw juice over a period of 1 to 2 months before the maturing process begins.

A HAPPY DIET

All our ciders are suitable for vegans and vegetarians and are gluten free.
